Welcome Page

When you first access BPM, you see the Welcome page. You select the batch by clicking the Benefits Batch card.

BPM indicates previously completed and current steps by displaying a green check mark next to a current or previous navigation menu item. While you cannot bypass a step to skip ahead, you can go back to a previous step by clicking the green check.

Expand and Collapse Navigation Pane

When you first access BPM, the left navigation pane is expanded be default. The left navigation on all other pages is collapsed by default once you click the batch card to go to Step 2. However, if you manually collapse or expand the navigation pane, BPM "remembers" your selection and applies it to all pages.

To manually expand the navigation pane, click the Hamburger menu in the upper left corner of the screen:

Chapter 2 Using BPM with Prior Batch History

If you have been through a renewal process with us before, BPM presents you with batch comparison data of the currently active plans to the offered plans up for renewal. You can review side-by-side comparisons of Current to Renewal statistics for the benefit group(s) (i.e., Health, Dental, Vision, etc.)

As you drill down further into each benefit group, you can evaluated calculated percentages of increase or decrease in premiums and contributions from the Current year to the Renewal year.

Note: If any of the plans being offered in the renewal years are new plans, the percentage of increase or decrease is not calculated for those since there is no Current Year data to use for comparison calculations.

Option 1: Reviewing, Selecting, and Approving Benefits With Prior Batch History

Step 1: Log in to BPM

When offered benefits are ready to review, you will receive an email similar to below announcing that benefits are ready to review in the Benefit Plan Manager (BPM) portal. The email will contain a link to access the portal.

Note: Some of the verbiage and design elements in the example images displayed here will vary slightly from your actual screens due to differences in software configuration. However, the functionality is the same.

Step 4: Compare Offered Plans

Now it is time to review and compare offered plans.

ALERT: Initially, you will see the current plans up for renewal as they are selected by default. This gives you an opportunity to compare these plans before you select any additional available plans.

If you later select additional plans, revisit this step and review the new plans so that you can review contribution methods and edit enrollment counts as necessary.

To review and compare offered plans:

1. Click a Benefit Group name to drill into the Group Summary details.

Employee + Family	$3,011.29	$3,043.53	$3,434.62	$2,601.58	$1,870.00	$250.00

You can compare the details of each offered plan by Plan Type on the Group Summary > Plan Comparisontab. The Plan Details include:

- All premiums for all Coverage Levels as applicable. Example: Employee Only, Employee + Spouse, Employee + Child, , Employee + Family, etc.
 Note: Coverage Level names may vary from the examples given above.
- Co-pay amounts

- In Network/Out of Network Deductibles
- Out-of-Pocket Maximums

There may also be details for specific services (such as hospitalization or outpatient surgery) as well as additional fields specific to a plan category. For instance, for a Vision Plan, there may be details outlining the coverage for both necessary and elective contact lenses. There are not as many details for supplemental plans. For these plans, typically only the premium amounts display in BPM.

Note: You will need to repeat this step for each Plan Type by selecting a different option from the Plan Type field.

The Plan Comparison tab is also where you will select plans. Return to the Plan Comparison tab for plan selection once you have reviewed Benefits Summary information and made any changes as necessary to Contribution Methods and/or enrollment counts.

Step 5: Review the Group Summary

Next, review Group Summary details on the Summary tab. This is where you can:

- Compare the Current and Renewal premiums for the Employee Only (EO) coverage level within a Benefit Group by Plan Type.
 Note:
 - Coverage level names may vary depending on your configuration. The equivalent of the Employee Only (EO) premiums are shown here.
 - As covered in the previous section, you can view renewal premiums for all coverage levels included in offered plans on the Plan Comparison tab.
- Edit contribution method details and enrollment counts for the selected plans, if necessary.

Accessing the Group Summary

To access the group summary:

- 1. With the desired group selected, click the Summary tab.
- 2. Then, ensure the desired Plan Type is selected.

You are now on the Group Summary > Summary tab.

Compare Current and Renewal EO Premiums

To compare Current and Renewal premiums for EO:

When you first display the Summary tab in BPM, for any plan being renewed from the current year's batch, the Current Enrolled Count is the same as the Renewal Enrolled Count.

The enrollment counts may require editing for the renewal plans but for now, let's use them for comparison. We will show you how to edit the Renewal Enrolled Count later in this section.

Initially reviewing the same counts for Current Enrolled Count and Renewal Enrolled Count allows you to compare "apples to apples" when evaluating percentages of increase or decrease in premiums and contributions from the Current year to the Renewal year.

Note: If any of the plans being offered in the renewal years are new plans, the percentage of increase or decrease is not calculated for those since there is no Current Year data to use for comparison calculations.

In the example below, there is a current plan being offered for renewal. By having the current and renewal enrollment the same, you can see the percentage of increase from the current year to the renewal year in EO Premium, Total Premium, Employer Contribution, and Employee contribution. This is highlighted below:

 If you want to change Renewal Enrolled Count values, with the Contribution Method details still expanded, update the Enrolled Count fields in the Renewal section for each coverage level as necessary.

Note:

- If there are associated child companies, you cannot edit the Enrolled Count in BPM. The fields will appear dimmed and unavailable. This is because BPM is aggregating the parent company and child company enrollment counts for you and using this information to recalculate the percentages and other calculations shown.
- During plan selection, if you select new plans that are not yet listed here, you should return to the Group Summary > Summary tab and review/edit the contribution methods and enrollment counts for those plans as well.
- 5. Repeat these steps to review contribution method and enrollment details for all plans within each Plan Type.

Step 6: Select Plans

Now it is time to make your plan selections. For this, we will stay on the the Group Summary tab but return to the Plan Comparison sub-tab where you reviewed and compared offered plans in Step 4.

To select plans:

1. Click the Group Summary > Plan Comparison tab.

At the top of the Plan Comparison tab, the renewal plans are grouped under "Renewal Plans" and new plans (if any are being offered) are listed under "Other Available Plans". There are a drop-down lists under each plan with pre-selected values shown:

- Selected If a plan has a white background and is in "Selected" status initially, this indicates the plan is a renewal plan (i.e., it is from the current year and is eligible for renewal).
- New If a plan is in "New" status initially, this plan is a new plan being offered in the renewal period.

In the example below, there is a renewal plan in "Selected" status and multiple plans in "New" status:

- 2. Make selections using the following guidelines:
 - If you want to proceed with renewing a plan under "Renewal Plans": Leave it set to "Selected".

• If you want to drop a Renewal Plan: Click the down arrow and change from "Selected" to "Drop". Notice that the background color of the dropped plan changes to gray.

• If you want to pick a New plan: Under "Other Available Plans", click the down arrow and change from "New" to "Selected". Notice that the selected "New" plan is added to a "New Plans Selected" section and the background color changes to light orange.

• If you want to reject a New plan: Under "Other Available Plans", click the down arrow and change from "New" to "Reject". Notice that the background color of the rejected plan changes to gray.

3. When you are finished making selections for the currently selected Plan Type, click Save.

ALERT: If you attempt to go to another tab or select a different Plan Type without saving your changes, an Unsaved Changes warning message similar to the example below will display. To avoid losing work, click Cancel and then click Save to save your work.

4. Repeat the steps in this section to make plan selections for all Plan Types in the selected Group.

ALERT: If you selected any new plans that were not yet listed when you first reviewed offered plans in Step 4, be certain to return to the Group Summary > Summary tab and review/edit the contribution methods and enrollment counts for those plans as well and save those changes. In the example below, we added two new offered plans that were not offered in the current renewal year. (This is why no data is shown in the Enrolled, EO Premium, Total Premium, Employer Contrib, and Employee Contrib columns in Current section. No historical data exists.) Be certain to check the contribution methods and enrollment counts on any newly selected plans before you submit your selections.

Step 7: Work on the Remaining Groups (if Applicable)

If you have more than one Benefit Group in this batch, repeat the following sections for the remaining groups:

- Step 3: Review the Benefits Summary
- Step 4: Compare Offered Plans
- Step 5: Review the Group Summary
- Step 6: Select Plans

Step 8: Review the Selection Summary and Submit Selections

ALERT: Plans for all Benefit Groups in the current batch must be reviewed and your final selections must be made before submitting final selections. Any plans in "New" status that have not been either selected or rejected will automatically be rejected when you submit final selections.

When you are finished making plan selections for all Plan Types in all Groups, you can review a summary of your selections, add your signature to indicate that you have approved the selections and then finalize the process by submitting the changes.

To review the selection summary and submit selections:

1. When you are finished making plan selections for all Plan Types in all Groups, with any Group and Plan Type shown (as it does not matter), go to the Summary tab and click Continue.

Chapter 3 Using BPM with No Prior Batch History

If you are a first time customer, you are in the right place! As a first time customer, you will not have prior batch data that we can draw from to present you with batch comparison data of the currently active plans to the offered plans up for renewal. As such, the screens have been streamlined to only display offered plans.

Option 2: Reviewing, Selecting, and Approving Benefits -No Prior Batch History

Step 1: Log in to BPM

When offered benefits are ready to review, you will receive an email similar to below announcing that benefits are ready to review in the Benefit Plan Manager (BPM) portal. The email will contain a link to access the portal.

Note: Some of the verbiage and design elements in the example images displayed here will vary slightly from your actual screens due to differences in software configuration. However, the functionality is the same.

To log in to BPM:

1. Open the email announcing that benefits are ready for your review and click the link to open BPM. The BPM Login Window displays.

Step 4: Review and Select Offered Plans

Since this is your first time selecting plans and you have no current plans. If you had some current plans up for renewal, they would already be in a "Selected" status and you would be able to see current year and renewal year summary details and make some initial comparisons on the renewing plans. Since you do not have that, you need to review the available plans first and at least tentatively select some plans on the Plan Comparison tab before you can review summary details such as contribution methods and enrollment counts.

Reviewing Plans

To review and compare offered plans:

1. Click a Benefit Group name to drill into the Group Summary details.

You can compare the details of each offered plan by Plan Type on the Group Summary > Plan Comparison tab. The Plan Details include:

All premiums for all Coverage Levels as applicable. Example: Employee Only, Employee + Spouse, Employee + Child, Employee + Family, etc.

Note: Coverage Level names may vary from the examples given above.

- Co-pay amounts
- In Network/Out of Network Deductibles
- Out-of-Pocket Maximums

There may also be details for specific services (such as hospitalization or outpatient surgery) as well as additional fields specific to a plan category. For instance, for a Vision Plan, there may be details outlining the coverage for both necessary and elective contact lenses. There are not as many details for supplemental plans. For these plans, typically only the premium amounts display in BPM.

Note: You will need to repeat this step for each Plan Type by selecting a different option from the Plan Type field.

The Plan Comparison tab is also where you will select plans. Return to the Plan Comparison tab for plan selection once you have reviewed Benefits Summary information and made any changes as necessary to Contribution Methods and/or enrollment counts.

Selecting Plans

Remember: It is OK to tentatively select plans and later make changes prior to submission as long as you review the Group Summary details and make any necessary changes or corrections to contribution methods and/or enrollment counts prior to submission. (This process is covered in Step 5.)

To select plans:

 While still on the Group Summary > Plan Comparison tab and the desired Plan Type selected, at the top of the Plan Comparison tab, notice that all of the plans are grouped under "Available Plans" in "New" status.

 - Coverage level names may vary depending on your configuration. The equivalent of the Employee Only (EO) premiums are shown here.
 - As covered in the previous section, you can view renewal premiums for all coverage levels included in offered plans on the Plan Comparison tab.
- Edit contribution method details and enrollment counts for the selected plans, if necessary.

Accessing the Group Summary

4. If you want to change Enrolled Count values, with the Contribution Method details still expanded, update the Enrolled Count fields for each coverage level as necessary. Note: If there are associated child companies, you cannot edit the Enrolled Count in BPM. The fields will appear dimmed and unavailable. This is because BPM aggregates parent company and child company enrollment counts for you and uses this information to calculate the percentages and other calculations shown.

ALERT: If you return to the Plan Comparison tab and select new plans that are not yet listed here, you should then return to the Group Summary > Summary tab and review/edit the contribution methods and enrollment counts for these plans, making any necessary changes.

5. Repeat these steps to review contribution method and enrollment details for all plans within each Plan Type.

Step 6: Work on the Remaining Groups (if Applicable)

If you have more than one Benefit Group in this batch, repeat the following sections for the remaining groups:

- Step 3: Review the Benefits Summary
- Step 4: Review and Select Offered Plans
- Step 5: Review the Group Summary

Step 7: Review the Selection Summary and Submit Selections

ALERT: Plans for all Benefit Groups in the current batch must be reviewed and your final selections must be made before submitting final selections. Any plans in "New" status that have not been either selected or rejected will automatically be rejected when you submit final selections.

When you are finished making plan selections for all Plan Types in all Groups, you can review a summary of your selections, add your signature to indicate that you have approved the selections and then finalize the process by submitting the changes.

To review the selection summary and submit selections:

1. When you are finished making plan selections for all Plan Types in all Groups, with any Group and Plan Type shown (as it does not matter), go to the Summary tab and click Continue.
